32-3607: CRYGC Recombinant Protein

Alternative Name : Crystallin,gamma C,Gamma-crystallin 2-1,Gamma-crystallin 3,CRYG3,CCL.

Description

Source : E.coli. CRYGC Human Recombinant produced in E. coli is a single polypeptide chain containing 198 amino acids ( $1-174$ ) and having a molecular mass of 23.5 kDa .CRYGC is fused to a 24 amino acid His-tag at $N$-terminus & purified by proprietary chromatographic techniques. CRYGC is a member of the beta/gamma-crystallin family. Mammalian lens crystallins are distributed into alpha, beta, and gamma families; beta and gamma crystallins are also considered as a superfamily. Gamma-crystallins are a homogeneous group of extremely symmetrical, monomeric proteins usually missing connecting peptides and terminal extensions and are differentially regulated after early development. Three pseudogenes (gamma-E,F,G) and four gamma-crystallin genes (gamma-A,B,C,D) are structured in a genomic sector as a gene cluster. Gamma-crystallins are involved in cataract formation as a result of aging or mutations in specific genes. Mutations in CRYGC result in cataract Coppock-like (CCL) and cataract autosomal dominant (ADC).
